FATE GERMAN DEFENSES SEALED BY ALLIED GAINS

RIGHT WING WRENCHED AWAY FROM SEA.

Flanders Drive Viciously Affects Whole Western Line—Constant Ardennes Pivot.

Paris, Oct. 17.—The fate of the German defenses along the Belgian coast and in the great Lille industrial area has been sealed by the continued advance of the allied armies under King Albert on the thirty-mile front in Flanders. The significance of the evacuation of the Belgian coast line is far greater than the gain of Flanders territory with its many airdromes and submarine bases.

The extreme right wing of the German defenses in the west has been wrenched away from the protecting sea. Henceforth the immense line which has been buttressed by the sea on one end and by the Swiss frontier on the other, forcing the allies always to attack frontally, can be outflanked.

It is believed here that the allied attack in Flanders did not surprise the Germans, but the rapidity of the advance did. The enemy is now powerless to retrieve the situation. The allied rush has been so quick that the hope is expressed here that Lille, Tourcoing and Roubaix will be found almost intact.

To Have Vital Effect. The operations in Flanders are bound to have a vital effect on the whole western line. While the British attack across the Lys will bring about the evacuation of the Lille salient, the march of the Belgians on Ghent will have a marked influence on the general retreat in the west to which the Germans are irrevocably condemned by the Flanders advance.

Gen. Ludendorff will be obliged to seek to re-establish his fast crumbling front far in the rear of the present operations. The Lille-Mezieres will be out of the question as it will be outflanked and Ludendorff probably will have to defend the German frontier on the line of Antwerp-Namur-Metz. To reach this line, he will have to retreat swiftly on a wide front. Such a maneuver, it is believed here, would be most perilous with Marshal Foch hammering relentlessly on the retreating armies.

To Preserve at All Costs. In any case the German commander has to preserve at all costs the Ardennes pivot. That is why the German are offering such determined resistance to the French north of Vouziers and to the Americans on both sides of the Meuse. The enemy might give way on strategic loss, but to line with little strategic loss, but to fail in defending the Ardennes pivot would mean disaster.

TENNESSEE MINES HIT

Possibility that "Flu" Epidemic May Cause Shutting of Mines.

Knoxville, Oct. 17.—(Special.)—Mines throughout East Tennessee and southeastern Kentucky are on the verge of closing down owing to the epidemic of influenza which is raging throughout the mining camps. Coal production is cut down about 50 per cent, and conditions may become worse, it is stated by coal operators.

Howell J. Davis, production manager for East Tennessee, southeastern Kentucky and Georgia, states that at Caryville 400 persons have been stricken with the malady, and 250 employees of one large mine at Harlan are down with the malady.

Physicians in the mining camps who have been granted furloughs by the army are in demand in many of the mining towns, and an effort is being made by Mr. Davis to have the furloughs extended in order that the physicians may assist in the treatment of miners and their families.

CROWN PRINCE PUNISHED FOR PLEBIAN MARRIAGE

PRINCE CHARLES OF RUMANIA.

Crown Prince Charles of Rumania, has been punished by his father, as commander-in-chief of the army, with close confinement for seventy-five days for "transgression of military regulations," according to an official dispatch from Jassey by way of Amsterdam. It is believed that the crown prince is being disciplined because, according to a recent report, he went to Odessa about Sept. 15 without the sanction of the king, and married Miss Zylis Lambrino, a Rumanian who has no claim of royal blood.

since the preliminary hearing Oct. 8. The offense with which Mr. Branch is charged is in connection with some detective work done for the Wm. J. Oliver Manufacturing company. At the preliminary hearing it was developed that J. W. Bolt, a detective working for Mr. Branch, and who was accused of having purchased whisky as a part of the "entertainment" of H. L. Guardonne, the government detective from whom Bolt was trying to get information. Bolt turned in the item of whisky at the cost of $2 as a part of his expense account. This item was included in a bill of costs sent to Mr. Oliver by the detective agency and was included in a check written by Mr. Oliver in payment of the bill. This check, however, was turned down at the bank, and when the bill was again paid the amount of the whisky was not included.

Mr. Branch denied all knowledge of the purchase of the whisky or of any of the charges.

WILL INSIST ON ALSACE-LORRAINE

Washington, Oct. 15.—President Wilson will insist that Alsace-Lorraine be returned to France, and he has not forgotten, moreover, that since the announcement of his fourteen peace terms on Jan. 8, the Czech-Slovaks have been recognized by the United States and the allies as a co-belligerent anxious for independence.

The president meant literally what he said on Jan. 8. He declared that "the wrong done by Prussia in 1871 to France in the matter of Alsace-Lorraine, which has unsettled the peace of the world for nearly fifty years, should be righted in order that peace may once more be made secure in the interest of all."

How else can a wrong be righted when property is involved? It is true that a life can never be restored, but when goods are stolen a court orders that such a wrong be righted by restoring the goods stolen. That applies absolutely to the question of territory so far as the attitude of the president of the United States is concerned.

TOOK OUT DREADFUL SORENESS.

When the kidneys are weakened or overworked so that they fail to filter and throw all impurities out of the blood, the poison remains in the system and backache, soreness, lameness and rheumatic pains are likely to develop. Mrs. David Henry, 65 S. Clinton Ave., Washington, N. J., writes: "Foley Kidney Pills are doing me much good, both my kidneys and the rheumatism. They took all the dreadful soreness out of my limbs. Jo Anderson, druggist, Chattanooga, Tenn.—(Adv.)"

ENGLISH PRESS IN APPROVAL

President Wilson's Answer Acclaimed Abroad.

London, Wednesday, Oct. 16.—Approval of President Wilson's answer is voiced by the Manchester Guardian in an editorial printed today. The newspaper says:

"The president's words are worthy of a great man speaking on one of the very greatest occasions. To our mind they meet in every way, alike in what they mean and in the manner of saying it, the needs of a momentous hour. There was need of such a man and it will be to the lasting glory of American institutions to have produced and placed him high in power."

TO ONLY HEAR DECISIONS

Germany Can Have No Part in Contributing to Settlement.

London, Oct. 17.—Sir Frederick E. Smith, the attorney-general, in the preface of a new edition of his book on international law, after dealing with Germany's defiance of all international law, says the future of civilization requires that the authority of public law must be reasserted with punishment so memorable, so dreadful that the offenses will not be repeated.

For the correction of specific infractions, he adds, international law does not exclude the castigation of guilty individuals, however highly placed. Material injuries may be made good by the payment of a pecuniary indemnity and if it be objected that an impoverished nation has no money with which to make good the consequences of its crimes it may be answered that the claims of the guilty nation to be paid must be money supplied for the purpose of those crimes may be justly postponed to the compensation of the victims. The doctrines of international law afford abundant warrant and precedent for both these standpoints.

Finally, the attorney-general declares, the assumption that the central powers will be represented at a peace conference in the sense that the allies are represented would seem to require very considerable qualification. The central powers, he suggests, should be present in the inter se, to hear, but not to contribute to the decisions of the allies.

A Stern Task for Stern Women

There is nothing in the epidemic of SPANISH INFLUENZA to inspire panic.

There is everything to inspire coolness and courage and sacrifice on the part of American women.

A stern task confronts our women—not only trained women, but untrained women.

The housewife, the dietician, the nurses' aide, the practical nurse, the undergraduate nurse and the trained nurse herself—all of these are needed.

Humanity Calls Them Lives Depend Upon Their Answer

Capable, though untrained hands, can lighten the burden of the trained ones. There are many things intelligent women can do to relieve the situation, working under the direction of competent nurses.
